

Environmental

The state of Florida has a highly complex and comprehensive framework of environmental legislation and administrative rules. Our Environmental attorneys offer a unique depth and breadth of experience to provide highly customized and cost-effective legal services to navigate complex political, legal and practical environmental challenges.

Fowler White's Environmental attorneys represent a broad range of large and small businesses, governmental entities and developers throughout the state of Florida on all areas of environmental permitting, regulatory compliance, litigation and due diligence. Our lawyers work closely with environmental consultants and experts to minimize and manage environmental liabilities and risks in connection with real estate transactions, redevelopment of contaminated properties and obtaining environmental permits and entitlements.

Our Firm's Environmental Group maintains close working relationships with all environmental regulatory agencies, including the United States Environmental Protection Agency, the Florida Department of Environmental Protection, the Water Management Districts and local and county environmental regulatory agencies. Our Environmental attorneys include former Secretaries from the Florida Department of Environmental Protection, Florida Department of Community Affairs and the Florida Department of Transportation. Our Environmental lawyers have extensive experience in all areas of state and federal Environmental law, including the Clean Water Act, Clean Air Act, CERCLA, RCRA, FIFRA, TSCA and EPCRA.

Fowler White's Environmental attorneys work closely with our clients' experts and consultants to minimize potential environmental costs and liabilities that relate to Brownfields redevelopment, green development, environmental permitting and compliance, complex environmental site remediation projects, and contaminated property transactions with a special emphasis on environmental due diligence.
