

Jennifer G. Roeper

Jennifer G. Roeper practices in the Firm's Tampa office in the International and Immigration Practice Group. Ms. Roeper concentrates her practice in the area of immigration, and handles all aspects of immigration law including temporary visa processing, applications for permanent residence and naturalization. She assists corporate clients in maintaining compliance with U.S. immigration laws, and serves as counsel for clients facing deportation from the United States.

Representative Experience

- Shaw Pittman LLP, Washington, D.C.
Associate, Business Immigration, February 2001 - December 2004
- Law Offices of I. Jay Fredman, Washington, D.C.
Associate, Immigration, May 2000 - January 2001

Presentations and Publications

Presentations

- AILA South Florida Chapter Annual Conference, Speaker, October 2008
- "Business Immigration/Employment Law Issues," Speaker, Lorman Seminar, March 2007
- "Immigration Policy Update," Speaker, Tampa Bay Organization of Women in International Trade, April 2006
- "International Skills Put to Practice," Speaker, American Association of University Women/Schiller University, March 2008
- "Immigration Enforcement and I-9 Updates," Speaker, Plant City Rotary Club, 2007
- Fowler White Employment and Immigration Update, Speaker, (Jacksonville and Orlando 2007)
- "PERM Strategies and Updates," Speaker, AILA Central Florida Chapter Conference, Clearwater, Fall 2007
- "H-1B Cap Issues and Alternate Business Visa Strategies," Speaker, AILA Central Florida Chapter Conference, St. Petersburg Beach, Fall 2006

Publications

- "Immigration Compliance: Avoiding the Pitfalls," Author, Counsel-to-Counsel Magazine, April 2007
- "Immigration in the News," Author, Paralegal Association of Florida, Inc., October 2006
- "Immigration Policy and Proposed Legislative Changes," Author, Tampa Bay Women in International Trade, April 2006
- "Understanding Immigration Law: A Guide to Working with Foreign Nationals." Co-Author, Association Management, March 1, 2002

Professional Affiliations

- American Immigration Lawyers' Association: Member
- District of Columbia Bar: Member
- Florida Association of Women Lawyers
- Hillsborough Association of Women Lawyers

Shareholder

Tampa
(813) 222-3345
jroeper@fowlerwhite.com

Practice Areas

Immigration

Education

J.D., American University, Washington College of Law, 2000
B.A., Long Island University, C.W. Post Campus; International Studies, 1997

Bar Admissions

Florida
District of Columbia

Jennifer G. Roeper

- Hillsborough County Bar Association
- Tampa Bay Organization of Women in International Trade: President, 2009-2011; Vice President of Programs, 2009-2011
- The Florida Bar: Member
- UNA-USA: Member
- University Club: Member

Community Involvement

- Guardian ad Litem: Washington, D.C., 2004
- September 11th Project: Assisted in forming a city-wide network of attorneys to provide legal counsel to victims and families of Pentagon attack and provided immigration counsel to families impacted by the attack
- Bread of the City Legal Clinic for the Homeless: Provide immigration counsel to indigent clients
- Gulf Coast Legal Services: Volunteer, Pro Bono Asylum

Distinctions

Board Certified in Immigration and Nationality Law, The Florida Bar