

Insurance Company Regulation and Litigation

Fowler White Boggs has been ranked as a leading Florida law firm for Insurance Practice by Chambers USA in consecutive years beginning in 2004. Our Insurance practice covers a number of segments of the industry including business, regulatory, and litigation. We offer a monthly newsletter that offers industry news as well as case reporting and analysis and notices of upcoming seminars on insurance issues. Visit our "What's News" section to sign up for this enews service.

Fowler White Boggs addresses the needs of a broad spectrum of global and domestic financial service businesses including insurance and reinsurance companies (with respect to life/annuities, health, title and captive insurers), investment companies, offshore funds, producers (including insurance agents, third party administrators, managing general agents and broker/dealers), investment advisers, pension fund administrators, banks and other financial services companies, and insurance regulators. We offer regulatory advice, provide guidance on product development and give counsel on all aspects of insurance company legal challenges.
