

2012 1L LCLD DIVERSITY SCHOLARS FELLOWSHIP

Fowler White Boggs P.A. strives to be the leader among law firms embracing diversity. We are proud of our commitment of ensuring equal opportunities for success within the firm. Every year Fowler White Boggs recruits law students from all across the country for our Summer Associate Program. We recruit students with superior academic credentials and an entrepreneurial spirit.

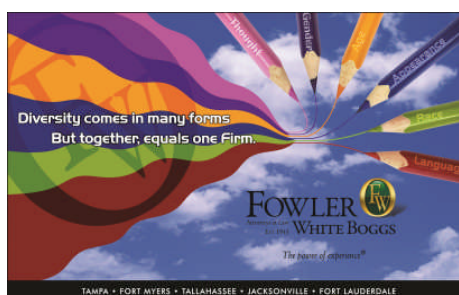

We are proud to be an inaugural member of the Leadership Council on Legal Diversity (LCLD). This groundbreaking organization is a cooperative effort between general counsels and managing partners of major corporations and law firms dedicated to making significant, tangible progress on diversity by developing specific goals, implementing measurable metrics and rewarding definitive results.

As a member of the LCLD, we are pleased to offer a 1L Diversity Scholars Fellowship in our Tampa office, which will provide a diverse first-year law student with the opportunity to join our 2012 Summer Associate Program and work with attorneys, paralegals, and other specialists.

Applications must include:

- a current resume;
- undergraduate and law school transcripts (unofficial versions are acceptable);
- a legal writing sample (8-page maximum);
- a personal statement (not to exceed 500 words). The personal statement should describe the applicant's leadership, relevant background and characteristics, and commitment to diversity. While financial need is not determinative, please explain any financial need you would like the selection committee to consider.

Application Deadline: 1/31/2012
All materials should be sent by email and/or regular mail to the attention of:
